About Foster&Bridge

Foster&Bridge is an entrepreneurial business organization that strives to develop stronger and better human capital and resource solutions, improving the processes of their clients and optimizing results, thus offering more and better, from people and to people. Only then can we exceed the expectations of our clients, presenting them with innovative solutions in People Management, and by being a reference in the domestic market. We are aware of our ability to ensure a process of growth for our clients and support them by providing public training services, in-house training services and consultancy.

This is only possible thanks to our team, which is specialized in the strategic planning of the organization. It's no wonder then that we provide high end Training and Development that aims to reduce gaps between business and professional skills, in order for results to become increasingly more effective. We focus on Time Management, Conflict Management, Team Management and Building High Performance Teams training segments, as well as other more specific segments that are built according to the specific needs of our clients for the company to be competitive in the marketplace.

The benefits' administration has also been the focus of our work on this front! We believe that with the expertise that we possess, allied to top of the line professionals that we are fortunate to work with, we can accurately provide what every company seeks in the long run: to support business through consultancy in order for them to achieve their goals in life goals through hard work!

OUR hard work!

Business Philosophy

Foster&Bridge is quite watchful and responsive towards its clients. From the moment they engage with Foster&Bridge up to their participation and completion in our program, our main goal is to be present throughout the whole process. Foster&Bridge believes that professionals have soaring high expectations when they're undergoing our professional development program.

Generally speaking, Foster&Bridge has three main principles and goals in running its business and organization, and they are divided into three high end training programs: the Nurturing Program, the Elevating Program and the Connecting Program, that are described below to better explain our line of thought.

Nurturing (from nothingness to something)*

Foster & Bridge's mission is to nurture young talent & potential minds. We improve your personal & professional values to keep up with their brilliance. You will start as a seed, and through our care and attention you will become a plant. At the end of the process, our methodologies ensure you not only a sustained growth but also our main concern: that you bear fruits so others can reap them and grow as well.

Elevating (from one point to the other)

Foster & Bridge paves the road to your success and teaches you how to drive in that immense highway called business. We present you with a better you, better positions and degrees as the professional you are, better opportunities and timeliness and, of course, a better personal life as well so you can boost your career and your life in the community.

Connecting (from one to many)

Foster & Bridge believes that no individual can live a fulfilling life if he is not connected and thus does not connect with the society he's in. We promote retribution to those that make everything possible for greater talents to flourish and achieve the best professional and personal life. Communication and interconnection is of paramount importance in business and life, and the real secret is to know how one can touch many.

These training courses are the quintessential foundations that make Foster&Bridge a globally renowned and professional, trusted human capital development player that possesses remarkable internal and external premium quality training services to greet partners and clients alike with, be it professional entrepreneurs or corporations.

Our Services

Foster & Bridge's core interest and business resides in Human Capital Development through training. In order to implement our vision with sturdy and strong roots, we have to encase each of our beliefs into one single sphere, accommodating for the well being of each one of them so everything is in its right place. Nevertheless, and as parts of the same cell, every single one of them has a direct relation with each other, making sure that the whole organism functions perfectly as a whole, hence the perfect symbiosis that we present to both our customers and partners alike.

Our Mission:

1. Promote the intrinsic value of learning, self-worth and high quality performance among entrepreneurs;
2. Provide quality services that combine performance with value pricing, while establishing a successful relationship with our customers and our business partners (professionals, companies, facilitators);
3. Constantly strive to improve valuable offers to fulfill our customer needs and expectations of cost, service and selection;
4. Be a step ahead of the competition by innovating new products and services based on the needs of our customers and market demand;
5. Promote transition to professionals for productive and responsible participation in society.

The Values of Foster&Bridge

Innovation & Vanguard

In order for you to be a step ahead in an ever changing and tremendously competitive field, we at Foster & Bridge diligently invest and place a solid bet on the latest human resources training solutions and then implement them in your business.

Customer Focus & Prompt Responsiveness

We live in global times that demand us to maintain a staunch connection with our customers. Understanding the business' core is ultimately not enough: one has to predict that which our customers will want tomorrow and the day after, as well as adopt different strategies in moment's notice to adapt, since extinction is not a viable option. By doing so through our courses, Foster & Bridge provides valuable insight to its clients so they can provide the same insight to their clients.

Ethics & Individual Needs

An easy way to fail but that many companies seem to overlook is treating different customers in the same manner. This is indeed one of the major mistakes of nowadays businesses, as not understanding the customers' individual needs is a formal invitation to demise. By offering customized and integrated professional training solutions Foster & Bridge ascertains its command, turning its partners and customers not into mere clients but into true, dedicated

Agility & Dynamism

We aim to deliver knowledge to the corporate field that will transform 'good' into 'outstanding', thus helping each of our customers and partners to benefit much more from their employees and close cooperators. We imbue the attendants of our courses with enlightenment about how does agility and dynamism make a difference in the corporate world, sharing techniques and points of view so the outcome will exceed Foster & Bridge customers' individual expectations.

Quality & Services

In order for our partners and clients to progress and gather better customers, the quality of/and the services provided are of the highest order of importance. Thus, Foster & Bridge transmits Competence, Courtesy, Credibility, Security, Access, Communication, Reliability and Responsiveness, and ultimately, knowing the customer, all of these made available via our training sessions.

Transparency & Relationships

Your professionalism isn't more than a reflection of your transparency while conducting business and, in ultimate analysis, of yourself as a person. Transparency is synonymous with credibility and trust, and applying them in everything you do allow you to pave broad roads that lead to relationships. There's no middle term for transparency: whether you act like it or you don't, and Foster & Bridge knows too well that the rewards of transparency are reflected in the relationships that we make along the way.
